For matters not addressed by the Commission's regulations, the Group applies IFRS Accounting Standards.

The presentation format and the content of the selected explanatory notes follow the guidance of IAS 34, Interim Financial Reporting. These condensed consolidated interim financial statements do not include all of the information required for a complete set of annual financial statements and should be read in conjunction with the Group's consolidated financial statements as at and for the year ended December 31, 2025 (the last annual financial statements).

Where the requirements of the Commission differ from IFRS Accounting Standards, the former prevail. Consequently, these condensed consolidated interim financial statements are not intended to comply with, and should not be interpreted as complying with, IFRS Accounting Standards. No reconciliation to IFRS Accounting Standards is presented.

The accounting policies applied are consistent with those applied in the last annual financial statements.

These condensed consolidated interim financial statements were authorized for issue by the Company's Board of Directors on September 29, 2026.

b) Exceptions to IFRS Accounting Standards established by the Commission

The principal differences between the Applicable Framework and IFRS Accounting Standards are the following:

1) Loan portfolio classification and impairment. The Commission requires the loan portfolio to be classified into risk categories I to V on the basis of the borrower's payment behavior, financial condition and collateral, and requires loan loss allowances to be determined by applying the percentages established in the Standards for the Evaluation and Classification of the Credit Portfolio, as well as any additional allowances specifically required by resolution. IFRS 9 requires an expected credit loss model. The Group does not apply IFRS 9 to its loan portfolio. See note 5.

2) Additional allowances and restricted equity required by resolution. The Commission may require the constitution of additional loan loss allowances and of restricted equity appropriations charged to retained earnings. These requirements are not contemplated by IFRS Accounting Standards. See note 5.

(Expressed in thousands of lempiras and U. S. dollars)

3) Regulatory reserves. Certain appropriations of retained earnings are required by the Commission and by the regulators of the countries in which the Group's foreign subsidiaries operate and are presented within equity as regulatory reserves and contingency reserves. See the condensed consolidated interim statement of changes in equity.

4) Assets held for sale (foreclosed assets). Assets held for sale are measured and amortized in accordance with the schedules established by the Commission, rather than under IFRS 5.

5) Insurance contracts. The Group's insurance subsidiaries determine their technical, mathematical and claims reserves in accordance with the regulations of the insurance regulator of the country in which each of them operates: the Commission for the insurance subsidiaries domiciled in Honduras, and the respective regulators for the insurance subsidiaries domiciled in El Salvador, Ecuador and Belize. These reserves are not adjusted to a uniform basis on consolidation. The Group does not apply IFRS 17, Insurance Contracts.

6) Chart of accounts and presentation. The presentation of the condensed consolidated interim statement of financial position follows the order of liquidity and the account classification established by the Commission's chart of accounts.

7) Investment funds. Under IFRS 10, the Group would consolidate investment funds in which it holds a majority of the units and whose manager is a Group entity, and would present the interests of other unitholders as non-controlling interests. Under the Commission's standards, these funds are not consolidated. See "Investment funds managed by the Group" below

c) Basis of consolidation

Subsidiaries

Subsidiaries are entities controlled by the Group. In accordance with the Standards for the Preparation of Consolidated Financial Statements of Financial Groups issued by the Commission (Resolution No. 1040/13-10-2006, Circular CNBS No. 039/2006), the Group controls a company when it holds, directly or indirectly, more than 50% of its shares, or when it has the ability to appoint the majority of its governing bodies. Subsidiaries are consolidated from the date on which control is obtained until the date on which it ceases.

Investment funds managed by the Group

Investment funds managed by Group entities are separate pools of assets owned by their unitholders. They are legally and financially independent from the fund manager and do not issue shares; accordingly, they are not consolidated. Units of these funds held by Group entities are presented within financial investments.

Uniform accounting policies and reporting date

The financial statements of the subsidiaries are prepared for the same reporting period as those of the Company. Each subsidiary prepares its financial statements in accordance with the accounting framework established by the regulator of the country in which it operates. On consolidation, adjustments are made to align the accounting policies of the subsidiaries with those of the Group, except for the measurements determined under the regulations of each local regulator that the Group retains on consolidation, which are described in the exceptions to IFRS set out in this note.

INVERSIONES ATLÁNTIDA, S.A. AND SUBSIDIARIES

(Expressed in thousands of lempiras and U. S. dollars)

Intragroup transactions

Intragroup balances and transactions, and any unrealized income and expenses arising from them, are eliminated in full consolidation.

Changes in ownership interests that do not result in loss of control

Changes in the Group's ownership interest in a subsidiary that do not result in a loss of control are accounted for as equity transactions. The carrying amount of the non-controlling interests is adjusted to reflect the change in their relative interest in the subsidiary, and any difference between that adjustment and the fair value of the consideration paid or received is recognized directly in equity attributable to the owners of the Parent. No gain or loss is recognized in profit or loss and goodwill is not remeasured.

Loss of control

When the Group loses control over a subsidiary, it derecognizes the assets and liabilities of the subsidiary, any related non-controlling interests and the cumulative translation differences recorded in equity. Any resulting gain or loss is recognized in profit or loss. Any interest retained in the former subsidiary is measured at fair value at the date control is lost.

d) Basis for measurement

These condensed consolidated interim financial statements have been prepared on the historical cost basis, except for the following items, which are measured on an alternative basis at each reporting date:

INVERSIONES ATLÁNTIDA, S.A. AND SUBSIDIARIES

Notes to the condensed consolidated interim financial statements

March 31, 2026

(Expressed in thousands of lempiras and U. S. dollars)

- Certain items of property and equipment, measured at revalued amounts.
- Intangible assets recognized in business combinations carried out as part of the Group's expansion process, measured at fair value on initial recognition as deemed cost.
- Investment securities measured at fair value, with changes recognized in profit or loss or in other comprehensive income according to the Group's business model, as disclosed in note 4.
- Investment securities measured at amortized cost, including debt instruments issued by the Central Bank of Honduras and the Government of Honduras.

Use of judgements and estimates

In preparing these condensed consolidated interim financial statements, management has made judgements and estimates about the future, including climate-related risks and opportunities, that affect the application of accounting policies and the reported amounts of assets, liabilities, income and expenses. Actual results may differ from these estimates.

The significant judgements made by management in applying the Group's accounting policies and the key sources of estimation uncertainty were the same as those described in the last annual financial statements.

e) Functional and presentation currencies

The functional currency of the Company is the Lempira, which is the currency of the primary economic environment in which it operates, and the Group's presentation currency.

The amounts expressed in United States dollars are presented solely for the convenience of the reader and do not form part of the information required by the Applicable Framework. They have been translated from Lempiras at the market exchange rate published by the Central Bank of Honduras at the respective date: L26.56 per USD1.00 as of March 31, 2026, L26.37 per USD1.00 as of December 31, 2025 and L25.62 per USD1.00 as of March 31, 2025. In the condensed consolidated interim statement of changes in equity, all amounts of each period, including the opening balance, are translated at the exchange rate at the end of that period; accordingly, the opening balance in U.S. dollars as of January 1, 2026 (USD1,147,199) differs from total equity in U.S. dollars as of December 31, 2025 presented in the condensed consolidated interim statement of financial position (USD1,155,437) solely because of the different exchange rates used. This translation should not be construed as a representation that the Lempira amounts represent, have been, or could be converted into United States dollars at those rates or at any other rate.

For consolidation purposes, the financial statements of foreign subsidiaries and holding companies are translated into Lempiras using the exchange rates set out below. Assets and liabilities are translated at the closing rate, equity at historical rates, and income and expenses at the average rate for the period.

The translation into Lempiras of the financial statements of subsidiaries whose functional currency is not the Lempira should not be interpreted as an affirmation that the amounts translated could be converted without restriction into that currency at the stated exchange rate. Foreign currency differences arising on translation are recognized in other comprehensive income and accumulated in the foreign currency translation reserve within equity, with the portion attributable to non-controlling interests allocated accordingly. On disposal of a foreign operation, the cumulative amount in that reserve relating to that foreign operation is reclassified to profit or loss.

The Group also has companies that provide information technology and shared services to the Group entities; these are not operating segments (see note 15).

g) Changes in presentation, reclassifications and comparative information

In preparing these condensed consolidated interim financial statements the Group changed certain aspects of the presentation adopted in the consolidated financial statements for the year ended December 31, 2025 and in the condensed consolidated interim financial statements for the three months ended March 31, 2025, in order to align the primary statements with the condensed format required by IAS 34 and with the presentation requirements of IAS 1 and IAS 7 applied on a supplementary basis. Comparative information has been re-presented or reclassified accordingly, as described below. None of these changes affects total assets, total liabilities, net income and total comprehensive income attributable to shareholders of the parent, equity attributable to shareholders of the parent or cash and cash equivalents previously reported. As described in (ii), net income for the period, total comprehensive income for the period and total equity are now presented including non-controlling interests; the amounts attributable to shareholders of the parent and to non-controlling interests are the same as previously reported.

(i) Condensed format and note numbering

These financial statements are presented in condensed form and contain selected explanatory notes. They do not include all the information required for complete annual financial statements and should be read together with the consolidated financial statements for the year ended December 31, 2025. As a result of the condensed format, the numbering of the notes differs from that used in the annual consolidated financial statements; references to notes in the primary statements correspond to the numbering of these condensed notes.

(ii) Presentation of non-controlling interests and attribution of profit and comprehensive income

Non-controlling interests are presented as a component of total equity, separately from the equity attributable to shareholders of the parent, in the condensed consolidated interim statement of financial position and in the condensed consolidated interim statement of changes in equity. In the consolidated financial statements as of December 31, 2025, non-controlling interests were presented between total liabilities and shareholders' equity and were not included in total equity. The comparative information as of December 31, 2025 has been re-presented as follows:

INVERSIONES ATLÁNTIDA, S.A. AND SUBSIDIARIES

		As previously reported	Re- presentation	As re-presented

Total liabilities and equity	L	298,562,038	-	298,562,038

Consistently, the condensed consolidated interim statement of profit or loss and other comprehensive income presents net income for the period and total comprehensive income for the period in total, followed by the amounts attributable to shareholders of the parent and to non-controlling interests. In the statements for the year ended December 31, 2025 and for the three months ended March 31, 2025, the share of non-controlling interests was deducted as a line item before net income, and total comprehensive income was presented net of that share. For the three months ended March 31, 2025, total comprehensive income of L379,635 is attributable to shareholders of the parent for L326,822 (as previously reported) and to non-controlling interests for L52,813. For the three months ended March 31, 2026, total comprehensive income of L650,198 is attributable to shareholders of the parent for L419,843 and to non-controlling interests for L230,355.

In the condensed consolidated interim statement of changes in equity for the three months ended March 31, 2025, L7,165 of net movements in retained earnings of subsidiaries that do not pass through profit or loss or other comprehensive income, previously included within other comprehensive income, is presented under "Other", consistently with the presentation for the three months ended March 31, 2026 (see note 1). Other comprehensive income for the three months ended March 31, 2025 is L55,804 (L62,969 as previously reported); total comprehensive income and total equity are unchanged.

(iii) Reclassification of the tax on interest income

The tax on interest income is a final tax levied under the Honduran income tax law on interest earned on certain financial instruments, in lieu of income tax on that interest. It was previously presented within non-operating income (expenses) and is now presented within income tax expense, consistently with the treatment of final withholding taxes on income as income taxes of the recipient.

The comparative information for the three months ended March 31, 2025 has been reclassified as follows; net income for the period is unchanged:

		As previously reported	Reclassi- fication	As reclassified
Interest tax (within non-operating income (expenses))	L	(24,411)	24,411	-
Total non-operating income (expenses)		387,961	24,411	412,372

Income tax		221,481	24,411	245,892
Deferred income tax		26,342	-	26,342

(iv) Changes in the description of line items

The description of certain line items of the primary statements was changed to better reflect their nature and to align the terminology with the accounting standards applied on a supplementary basis. The amounts presented in each line are the same as those previously reported under the former description:

Cash flows from sectoral loans are presented separately from other loans from banks, and acquisitions of property and equipment are presented separately from acquisitions of investment properties. The comparative information for the three months ended March 31, 2025, has been re-presented as follows; net cash flows from operating, investing and financing activities are unchanged:

The Group manages its liquidity position through maintenance of liquid assets, statutory reserves, committed credit lines, repo transactions, and internal maturity-matching limits and monitors compliance with the regulatory liquidity requirements applicable in each jurisdiction.

INVERSIONES ATLÁNTIDA, S.A. AND SUBSIDIARIES

Notes to the condensed consolidated interim financial statements

March 31, 2026

(Expressed in thousands of lempiras and U. S. dollars)

The net position changed from a short position of USD62,868 as of December 31, 2025, to a long position of USD64,791 as of March 31, 2026. The change of USD127,659 resulted mainly from the reduction of USD206,101 in bonds and notes denominated in foreign currency, reflecting the early redemption of the Guaranteed Notes due 2026 (USD249,969 net carrying amount as of December 31, 2025) on March 29, 2026, partially offset by the additional issuance of Senior Notes due 2030 (USD40,000), and from the reduction of USD75,428 in foreign-currency loans from banks, mainly the settlement of trade-finance facilities of Banco Atlántida, S.A. with IFC and IDB Invest and scheduled repayments of the DFC facility. Since the redemption of the Guaranteed Notes was funded largely with Lempira-denominated resources (the loan from Banco de Occidente, S.A. and the capital contributions for Series A preferred shares), foreign-currency liabilities decreased without a corresponding decrease in foreign-currency assets. These effects were partially offset by growth of USD198,737 in foreign-currency deposits, mainly at Banco Atlántida, S.A. and Banco Atlántida El Salvador, S.A. Foreign-currency assets increased by USD30,553 (investments +USD62,217, cash and cash equivalents +USD11,098 and loans -USD42,762), and the short position in off-balance-sheet accounts decreased by USD14,314. As of March 31, 2026 and December 31, 2025, the Group holds financial guarantees denominated in foreign currency in the amounts of USD84,836 (L2,253,507) and USD87,610 (L2,310,600), respectively, which partially mitigate the exposure arising from off-balance sheet positions.

Interest rate risk

Substantially all of the Group's financial assets bear interest. The Group's financial liabilities include both interest-bearing and non-interest-bearing liabilities. Interest rates on the Group's interest-bearing assets and liabilities are established in accordance with market conditions. The maturity structure of financial assets and liabilities is presented in paragraph.

The following table sets out the weighted average interest rates by currency:

	For the three months ended March 31, 2026,		For the year ended December 31, 2025,
	Lempiras	Dollars	Lempiras	Dollars
Financial Assets
Cash and cash equivalents	1.4%	2.1%	1.8%	3.3%
Investments	6.6%	5.1%	6.3%	6.2%
Loans receivable	13.5%	10.0%	13.1%	10.9%
Financial Liabilities
Deposits	5.3%	3.6%	6.4%	4.8%
Financial obligation	8.7%	8.3%	6.1%	8.6%
Corporate bonds and guaranteed notes	5.2%	11.6%	8.2%	8.8%

The decrease in the weighted average cost of deposits, from 6.4% to 5.3% in Lempiras and from 4.8% to 3.6% in United States dollars, together with the increase in the weighted average yield of the loan portfolio from 13.1% to 13.5% in Lempiras, is the principal driver of the increase in net interest income for the period. See note 11.

Price Risk

The Group is exposed to price risk arising from its equity investments in entities that are not controlled by the Group and whose equity instruments are traded on international stock exchanges. To mitigate this risk, the Group applies a portfolio diversification strategy based on the volatility of the underlying instruments. The composition of these investments is disclosed in note 4.

After exhausting all available recovery efforts, the Group charged off loans totaling L353,526 during the three-month period ended March 31, 2026, and L2,858,250 during the year ended December 31, 2025. Of these amounts, L10,740 and L43,727, respectively, were recovered through the execution of collateral, while L342,786 and L2,814,523, respectively, were charged against the allowance for loan and interest losses.

Through Resolution No. SBO 738/11-27-2025 dated November 27, 2025, the National Banking and Insurance Commission (CNBS) required Banco Atlántida, S.A., a subsidiary of the Group, to recognize additional impairment provisions on its loan portfolio amounting to L1,274,197.

Subsequently, through Official Letter No. SBOIA-20/2026 dated January 14, 2026, and in connection with corrective action 2.1(b) included in the On-Site Examination Report as of March 31, 2025, updated as of September 30, 2025, the CNBS required Banco Atlántida, S.A. to establish a restricted equity reserve amounting to L610,040 (L539,336 net of non-controlling interests). This reserve must be adjusted based on the balance of the related debtors and may be used exclusively to absorb impairment losses.

In addition, through Resolution No. SBO 014/01-16-2026 dated January 16, 2026, the CNBS required Banco Atlántida, S.A. to establish additional loan impairment provisions totaling L560,826 under a phased implementation plan to be completed by December 2031 through annual appropriations of L93,471.

Furthermore, debtors identified as refinanced pursuant to the CNBS evaluation process must be reported as such to the Credit Information Bureau and may only be reclassified to a lower-risk category with the prior authorization of the CNBS, in accordance with the applicable regulations governing loan portfolio evaluation and classification.

(Expressed in thousands of lempiras and U. S. dollars)

As of March 31, 2026, and December 31, 2025, the deposits which were pledged in favor of the Group against loans provided total L3,430,067 and L3,693,798, respectively.

The weighted average cost of deposits for the three months ended March 31, 2026, was 5.3% in Lempiras and 3.6% in United States dollars (6.4% and 4.8%, respectively, for the year ended December 31, 2025). Notwithstanding the increase of L12,533,260 in the deposit portfolio during the period, interest expense on customer deposits remained substantially unchanged at L2,467,667 (three months ended March 31, 2025: L2,455,739), as a result of the reduction in the average cost of funding. This reduction, together with the increase in the weighted average yield of the loan portfolio, is the principal driver of the increase in net interest income for the period. See notes 3 and 11.

Guaranteed Notes due 2026 (INVATLAN)

On May 19, 2021, Inversiones Atlántida, S.A. issued USD300,000 in Guaranteed Notes (144A / Reg S format) with a five-year term, a single principal payment at maturity on May 19, 2026 and a fixed annual interest rate of 7.5% payable semi-annually. The proceeds were used for the early repayment of the first issuance (USD150,000) plus accrued interest, for acquisitions and for general corporate purposes. As of December 31, 2025, the outstanding principal amounted to USD252,209 (USD252,017 net of notes held by Group entities).

The notes were secured by a pledge over 100% of the shares that INVATLAN holds in Seguros Atlántida, S.A., a Debt Service Reserve Account (DSRA) equivalent to a minimum of two interest installments, and the commitment to channel the dividends received from Banco Atlántida, S.A. and Seguros Atlántida, S.A. to a trust account under certain conditions. The indenture also included financial covenants limiting restricted payments, asset sales, mergers and acquisitions and transactions with affiliates.

During the three months ended March 31, 2026, INVATLAN redeemed the notes in full ahead of their maturity: USD152,000 of principal was redeemed on January 29, 2026 and the remaining principal of USD100,209, together with accrued interest to the redemption date, was paid on March 29, 2026, seven weeks before the contractual maturity. Upon redemption, the unamortized transaction costs of USD2,048 were recognized in interest expense in the condensed consolidated interim statement of profit or loss and other comprehensive income, the pledge over the shares of Seguros Atlántida, S.A. was released, the restricted balance in the DSRA (L620,017 as of December 31, 2025) became unrestricted and the covenants ceased to apply. As of March 31, 2026, there is no outstanding balance under these notes.

The redemption was funded with the additional issuance of Senior Notes due 2030 described below (USD40,000), a loan of L2,000,000 (USD75,300) obtained from Banco de Occidente, S.A. maturing in February 2031 (see note 8), the increase of the syndicated facility to approximately USD25,000 maturing in December 2027 (see note 8), the collection of loans receivable from third parties, cash dividends received from subsidiaries and the contributions received from shareholders for the subscription of Series A preferred shares (see notes 1 and 14).

Interest expense on the Guaranteed Notes and the Senior Notes for the three months ended March 31, 2026 amounted to L193,153 (three months ended March 31, 2025: L164,426), included in interest expense on financial securities of own issuance (see note 11).

Senior Notes due 2030 (INVATLAN)

On December 29, 2025, Inversiones Atlántida, S.A. issued Secured Senior Notes for USD62,341 with a five-year term, a single principal payment at maturity on December 29, 2030 and a fixed annual interest rate of 9.5% payable semi-annually. The proceeds were used for the early redemption of the Guaranteed Notes due 2026, for acquisitions and for general corporate purposes. On March 25, 2026, the Company issued additional notes under the same terms for USD40,000, bringing the outstanding principal to USD102,341 as of March 31, 2026.

(12) Income tax

The Group's entities are subject to income tax and other taxes in accordance with the tax legislation applicable in each of the jurisdictions in which they operate.

Income tax expense for the interim period is recognized based on Management's best estimate of the weighted average annual effective income tax rate expected for the full financial year. The estimated annual effective tax rate is applied to the profit before tax of each jurisdiction, considering the applicable statutory tax rates, permanent differences, non-deductible expenses, tax-exempt income and other taxes determined on bases other than taxable income. The tax effects of significant items recognized in full during the interim period are recognized in the same period in which the related transaction occurs.

The components of income tax expense for the three months ended March 31, 2026 are as follows:

Concept	March 31, 2026
Income tax	L 406,104
Solidarity contribution	49,434
Capital gains tax	190
Net assets tax	6,504
Gross income tax	83,683
Interest tax	20,555
Current tax expense	566,470
Deferred income tax expense	11,463
Total tax expense	577,933

The Group recognized profit before tax of L1,186,260 and total tax expense of L577,933 for the three months ended March 31, 2026, resulting in an effective tax rate of 48.7% (45.7% for the three months ended March 31, 2025, restated for the reclassification of the tax on interest income described in note 2).

The effective tax rate differs from the statutory income tax rate principally as a result of the solidarity contribution, taxes on gross income and net assets, income subject to different tax rates in the jurisdictions in which the Group operates, non-deductible expenses and tax-exempt income, including income associated with the investment in Visa Inc.

Deferred income tax arises from temporary differences between the carrying amounts of assets and liabilities recognized for financial reporting purposes and the corresponding amounts used for tax purposes. As of March 31, 2026, deferred tax effects have been measured using the tax rates expected to apply when the related temporary differences are recovered or settled.

Matters for which an outflow is possible but not probable are disclosed as contingent liabilities when material. As of March 31, 2026, Management does not expect the resolution of the proceedings described below to have a material adverse effect on the Group's consolidated financial position.

(c) Contingent assets and proceedings initiated by the Group

Proceedings initiated by Banco Atlántida, S.A.

Banco Atlántida, S.A. has initiated legal proceedings against the National Banking and Insurance Commission in relation to the classification of related parties and the corresponding gradual adjustment plan.

Banco Atlántida, S.A. has also initiated collection proceedings against delinquent borrowers in the ordinary course of its lending activities. Any recoveries arising from these proceedings are recognized only when the applicable recognition criteria under the Applicable Framework have been met.

Proceedings initiated by Banco Atlántida El Salvador, S.A.

Banco Atlántida El Salvador, S.A. has initiated collection proceedings against delinquent borrowers and other third parties in the ordinary course of its lending activities. Any recoveries arising from these proceedings are recognized only when the applicable recognition criteria under the Applicable Framework have been met.

Proceedings initiated by AFP Confía, S.A.

AFP Confía, S.A. initiated legal proceedings against the Government of Costa Rica and the Central Bank of Costa Rica seeking the refund of amounts withheld in excess of the applicable income tax rate, together with the corresponding statutory interest.

The proceedings relate to a withholding tax rate of 15% applied to income earned on securities held by the pension fund administered by AFP Confía, S.A., instead of the 8% rate provided under the relevant tax legislation.

The administrative court issued a decision in favor of AFP Confía, S.A. and ordered the refund of the amounts withheld in excess. As of March 31, 2026, the corresponding amounts remained pending collection.

(d) Labor contingencies

Under Decree No. 150-2008, issued by the National Congress of the Republic of Honduras on November 5, 2008, employees dismissed without justified cause are entitled to severance benefits equivalent to one month of salary for each year of service, subject to a maximum of twenty-five months.

Employees with more than fifteen years of service who voluntarily terminate their employment are entitled to 35% of the severance benefits that would otherwise apply. In the event of the death of an employee with at least twelve months of service, the employee's beneficiaries are entitled to 75% of the applicable severance benefits.

The Group recognizes employee benefit obligations as they accrue in accordance with the Applicable Framework. Termination benefits are recognized when the Group can no longer withdraw the offer of those benefits or when the Group recognizes costs associated with a restructuring involving the payment of termination benefits, whichever occurs first.

(g) Off-balance sheet financial instruments

In the ordinary course of business, the Group enters into transactions involving financial instruments that are not recognized in the condensed consolidated interim statement of financial position, including letters of credit, financial guarantees, acceptances and undrawn credit commitments.

segments; their results and balances are presented, together with the elimination of intragroup balances and transactions and the consolidation adjustments, in the column "Holding and eliminations".

Segment information is measured on the same basis as these condensed consolidated interim financial statements, before the elimination of balances and transactions between segments. The measure of segment profit reported to management is net income for the period before non-controlling interests. The net income of the holding companies includes dividends received from Group entities (L1,551,544 and L308,095 for the three months ended March 31, 2026 and 2025, respectively), which are eliminated in consolidation; the reconciliation below presents the result of the holding companies net of those dividends. There are no differences between the measurement of segment assets, liabilities and results and the amounts presented in these financial statements. Interest income and commissions, fees and other operating income of each segment include revenue from transactions with entities of other segments and with the holding companies of the Group, which is disclosed separately below and eliminated in the column "Holding and eliminations"; revenue from transactions between entities of the same segment is also eliminated in that column. Intersegment transactions are carried out at the prices agreed between the entities involved.
